1882, ch. 386. 1888, ch. 227.

71. The county commissioners of Kent county shall annually, on or before the first day of January, pay over to the commissioners of Chestertown, that proportion of the entire county levy for roads and bridges which the total property assessed within the limits of Chestertown bears to the whole amount of assessed property in Kent county, so that the commissioners of Chestertown may receive and disburse the amount levied upon the property within the limits of Chestertown for roads and bridges by said county commissioners of Kent county.

P. L. L., (1860,) art. 14, sec. 61.

72. Between the first day of April and first day of May, the said commissioners shall annually publish at the court-house, and in a newspaper published in Kent county, if there be one published, an abstract showing the amount of taxes levied for the previous year up to the period of publication, including all taxes levied on the property in said town, all money collected for license and due for the same, all fines, and the total income from every source, and also their expenditures for the year, stating each class of expenditure and the balance due to or from the said commissioners.

Ibid. sec. 62.

73. If they shall refuse or neglect to comply with the directions of the preceding section, they shall be individually liable to presentment and fine not exceeding ten dollars, for the use of the public schools in said town.

Ibid. sec. 63.

74. No part of the property of Washington college shall be liable to assessment and tax by the said commissioners, except that which has been leased and has buildings thereon.

Ibid. sec. 66.

75. The market-house in said town and the grounds thereunto appertaining shall be vested in said commissioners, who may keep the same in repair and make such rules for the regulation of the market there to be held, and the time of holding the same, as they may deem proper, not inconsistent with law.
