

the commissioners, the county commissioners may make such orders as to the manner of altering or widening said road as they may deem proper.

1878, ch. 236.

183. After any private road shall be altered or widened under the two preceding sections, the county commissioners shall direct the application therefor, and the commissioners return thereof, to be recorded.

Ibid.

184. After the damages assessed and the costs of altering or widening of said road shall be paid by the person applying for the same, the said road as altered or widened shall be considered as the private road of the applicant, who shall keep it open and repair the same at his own expense.

Ibid.

185. Each commissioner, as compensation for his services, shall be entitled to two dollars per day for every day he may be engaged under the aforesaid appointment.

Ibid.

186. In case any person shall deem himself aggrieved by the proceedings under the aforesaid application, or any order of the county commissioners, he shall have the right of entering an appeal at any time within sixty days from the time of such decision or order of said commissioners, to the circuit court for said county, and the case shall be determined by the judge thereof, or by a jury, at the option of either party.
