

settled up all business connected with his former term—this section to apply to the treasurer in office on April 5, 1888, and his successors.

1874, ch. 503.

107. Before entering upon the duties of his office he shall take an oath in due form of law to perform the duties of his office; he shall also execute a good and sufficient bond in the penalty of fifty thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of his duty as treasurer, which bond shall be approved by the judges of the circuit court, only upon a certificate of the clerk of the county commissioners attached, giving the assessment of each person signing said bond, as appears from the assessment books of said county; and also a certificate of the clerk of the circuit court for said county, certifying that the said bondsmen appear good for the penalty thereof, over and above all judgments, mortgages or liens of any kind to be found in his office; and in case of the default of the treasurer to execute such a bond within thirty days after his election, the governor of the State shall appoint another in his stead, and so on until a treasurer shall have bonded as required by this section.

108. He shall keep his office in the court-house open from ten o'clock in the forenoon until three o'clock in the afternoon, three days in each and every week, to be by him designated, for the purpose of receiving State and county taxes, and disbursing the same as directed by law, and shall also attend in person or by deputy in each election district of said county two days between the date of each annual levy and the first day of October thereafter, at such place and time as he may appoint, for the purpose of collecting said taxes; and he shall give notice by advertisement in one paper published in said county, and by notice posted up in three public places in each election district of said county, in handbill form, of the time when and place where he will be in each of said districts for collecting and receiving the same, notifying all those who owe county taxes that if they are paid to him on or before the first day of July and the first day of October, they will be entitled to a deduction of eight or four per centum,
