

treasurer shall report and exhibit to the said commissioners, at each of their monthly meetings, a full and particular statement and account of his receipts and disbursements during the preceding month, and shall exhibit his vouchers therefor; and at the same time, or as often thereto as he may be required, he shall make out and exhibit a full statement of the debts due to and due by said commissioners, and of matters relating to his office; and he shall always have and produce his said books, and the bank book and check book, which he is required to keep by the succeeding section, at said monthly meetings, and also at such other meetings, or before such committee or committees as said commissioners shall order or direct, and shall submit himself to be examined in relation thereto. All books, documents and papers belonging to the treasurer's office shall be the property and records of Anne Arundel county, and shall at all times be subject to the examination of the county commissioners and of the grand jury, or of any taxpayer of said county; and it shall be the duty of the grand jury, at each jury term of the circuit court for said county to appoint from their own body a committee to examine the books and accounts of the said treasurer, and to report to the circuit court the result of such examination. All books, documents and papers, goods and chattels, accounts and credits, money and deposits belonging to the treasurer's office, or in his custody as treasurer, shall be delivered up and transferred by him to his successor in office, when such successor is duly appointed and qualified; provided that the tax levy or levies placed in his hands for collection, or so much thereof as may be uncollected or unaccounted for by him, and for which his bond is responsible, shall not be delivered or assigned over to his successor in office by such treasurer, except as provided in section 234, but his rights, powers and duties as to collecting and reporting the same shall continue, and he shall collect and pay over the same as collected, to his successor in office, in the manner and within the period prescribed in section 234.

228. All money received by the treasurer as such during his term of office shall immediately, or as soon after its receipt as possible, be deposited in such bank as the said commissioners may designate, to the credit of such commissioners; and no
