

1870, ch. 260.

214. They may pass ordinances to prevent horses and swine from running at large within the limits of the town.

Ibid.

215. No person shall permit his hogs to run at large within the limits of said town; and if any hog shall be found running at large therein, the bailiff shall forthwith seize and impound the same, and shall immediately give notice thereof by public advertisement; and if the owner shall not, within three days thereafter, pay said bailiff fifty cents for every day of the impounding of any hog, the bailiff shall sell the same at public sale, and after deducting one dollar for every hog, shall pay the purchase money to the treasurer of the town.

Ibid

216. The commissioners shall erect lamp-posts and place lamps at such places in the town as they may think proper, and shall provide for lighting such lamps.

Ibid.

217. They are authorized to erect a suitable enclosure for the impounding of all hogs found running at large within the limits of said town, and in violation of any of its ordinances.

Ibid.

218. They are empowered to erect or procure a proper or necessary room or building for the confinement of such persons as shall be convicted and committed for fines, misdemeanors or offences against any ordinance passed by said board of commissioners under this charter.

Ibid.

219. They may provide for and take care of all persons suffering from accident or otherwise, who are unable to take care of themselves, and if deemed necessary, shall have them sent to the almshouse of Prince George's county; and all expenses so incurred shall be repaid to the commissioners of the town by the county commissioners, who are authorized and required to levy annually for such amounts, payable to the commissioners of said town.
