

1876, ch. 201.

91. The citizens of the town of Church Hill, qualified to vote for delegates to the general assembly, and who have resided in said town for three months next preceding, shall elect by ballot, on the first Monday in June in each year, three persons, who are above the age of twenty-one years, and who have resided in the town one year preceding the election, to be commissioners of the town, and to hold their office, after being duly qualified, for one year, or until their successors are duly elected and qualified.

Ibid.

92. Said commissioners, or a majority of them, shall be judges of election; and every commissioner, before proceeding to hold such election, shall make oath before a duly authorized officer of the law, that he will faithfully and impartially perform the duties of judge of election, and permit every person to vote at such election who is qualified and a resident within the corporate bounds of said town, and prevent any one from voting who is not a resident within the bounds of the corporation, or who is otherwise disqualified.

Ibid.

93. Every commissioner, before entering upon the discharge of his duties as such, shall make oath before some justice of the peace for the county, that he will, to the best of his abilities, discharge the duties that may devolve upon him as commissioner.

Ibid.

94. The judges of election shall in all respects act and do as judges of a regular State election, and issue certificates, signed by said judges, or a majority of them, attested by the clerks of election, of the parties elected as commissioners; and said certificates shall be recorded in a well-bound book, to be provided by the commissioners; in which book shall also be kept the proceedings of every official meeting held by said commissioners, and which shall be open for inspection to all interested.

Ibid.

95. Should any vacancy occur in the board of commissioners, from any cause whatever, during the year, the remaining mem-
