

1876, ch. 201.

105. They shall have full power and authority to levy on the real and personal property in the town a sum not exceeding twenty-five cents on every one hundred dollars worth of property in any one year, and in the same proportion upon any greater or smaller share of property; and they are further empowered to levy a tax, not exceeding fifty cents, on every dog or bitch belonging to a resident of the town.

Ibid.

106. All town taxes on said assessment list, upon any house or parcel of land within the corporate limits of the town, which is not in the occupation of the owner thereof, may be charged to the tenant or other occupant, who shall be liable to like process for the payment thereof as the owner; and it shall be lawful for the said tenant or other occupant, after having paid the said town taxes upon such property, to deduct the same from the rent next coming due on said property.

Ibid.

107. It shall be the duty of the bailiff of the town to collect all taxes properly levied and due, and pay the same to the treasurer of the board of commissioners; and the said bailiff is invested with the same power in the collection of said town taxes, (except the tax on dogs,) as tax collectors for State and county taxes; and he may kill any dog or bitch whose owner shall refuse to pay the tax assessed on the same.

Ibid.

108. He shall preserve order, keep the peace, serve process, abate and remove nuisances, and execute all orders of the board of commissioners, and he shall have power to command the peace, arrest offenders, collect all monies due the corporation, and do all such acts and perform such duties as are generally performed by constables within the limits of the town, and in matters pertaining to its government.

Ibid.

109. All offenders under any of the ordinances, rules, regulations or by-laws, which shall have been duly passed by the com-
