

P. L. L., (1860,) art. 19, sec. 13.

13. The said overseer shall keep a regular list of all poor, vagrants, vagabonds, and other offenders committed to said almshouse, and shall lay the same before the trustees when required.

Ibid. sec. 19.

14. He shall keep, and on the first Monday of April in each year shall return to the said trustees, under oath administered by one of said trustees, a regular account in writing of all the stock, farming utensils and other things that may come to his hands, with a statement of the crops or other articles made on the lands belonging to said almshouse, and an account of all the expenses attending the maintenance and support of the inmates thereof, and of all moneys received by him for the sales of the produce of their labor or otherwise; which said statements and accounts the said trustees shall lay before the county commissioners at their meeting in April.

Ibid. sec. 20.

15. He may compel any of the inmates of the said almshouse, if of sufficient ability, to work, and may sell and account as aforesaid for the produce of their labor.

Ibid. sec. 13.

16. At their annual meeting in May, they shall appoint one of their own body as their clerk, whose duty it shall be to keep their accounts and prepare all necessary statements for settlement with the county commissioners, and for whose compensation the said commissioners may allow such sum as they may think proper.

Ibid. sec. 14.

17. They shall dispose of all products arising from the cultivation of the land belonging to said almshouse, over and above what may be necessary for the maintenance of the inmates thereof; and the amount of money arising from such sales, after paying all the expenses of said almshouse and farm, shall annually, on the first Tuesday of June, be returned on oath and paid over to the county commissioners; and in case the products of
