

1888, ch. 86.

233. Each supervisor shall make report to the county commissioners on the first day of June and the first day of December of each and every year, and the said reports shall state, on blanks to be furnished by the commissioners, the times and places of all work done, the names of persons summoned, and the time made by himself and each person at work on each occasion, the money received by him for road purposes from all sources, disbursements he has made, and on what account, and any other matter touching the road service in his district; and if any road supervisor shall fail wilfully to file such report with the said commissioners within ten days from said time, respectively, his said office shall, ipso facto, be vacated, and the said county commissioners shall immediately proceed to appoint some other person in his stead.

Ibid.

234. Any person who shall fail to obey the summons of the road supervisor shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon complaint made by the supervisor of the district in which he resides, shall be arrested and brought before any justice of the peace of the county upon a warrant to be issued by said justice, and upon proof of such summons and a failure to obey the same, shall be fined not less than one dollar and a half nor more than five dollars, and all costs of such proceeding, and stand committed until such fine and costs are paid; and all fines collected under this section shall be paid to the supervisor making said complaint, for the use of the road in his district; provided, that any person upon being summoned by the supervisor may furnish a substitute, or pay to the supervisor one dollar for each and every day he may be summoned to work; and provided further, that if it shall appear upon examination before the said justice of the peace that the party so brought before him was at the time he was summoned to work physically unable to perform said labor, and was also without pecuniary means and unable to pay the sum of one dollar, then the said party shall be discharged; provided also, that any person convicted under this section may appeal to the circuit court for Somerset county.

Ibid.

235. Each supervisor, as his full compensation, shall receive two dollars per day for each and every day of eight hours each
