

P. L. L., (1860,) art. 20, sec 34.

47. The commissioners of said town shall be judges of said election; and every commissioner, before he shall proceed to open an election, shall make oath that he will faithfully and impartially permit every person to vote at such election who is qualified to vote, and that he will not suffer any person to vote at said election who is not, in his judgment, qualified to vote.

Ibid sec. 35.

48. If any vacancy shall occur in the office of commissioners, the remaining commissioners, after ten days' previous notice thereof, shall hold an election to fill such vacancy during the remainder of the term.

Ibid sec. 36.

49. Every commissioner, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall make oath before some justice of the peace that he will diligently and faithfully, according to the best of his judgment, perform the duties of his office, and a certificate of such qualification shall be returned by the justice to the commissioners and recorded among their proceedings.

1868, ch. 279.

50. The said commissioners shall meet at the court-house in said town, or at such other public place therein as shall be previously notified, on the first Monday in each and every month, or at such other times as they may deem necessary.

P L. L., (1860,) art 20, sec. 38

51. They may appoint a clerk, who shall keep minutes of their proceedings in well-bound books to be provided by them for that purpose, and also regular accounts in a ledger, of all persons indebted to the commissioners, except those who shall become indebted for town taxes; and the said books shall be subject to the inspection and examination of all persons interested therein.

1870, ch. 240.

52. They may make such ordinances as they may deem necessary and beneficial to said town; may cause all nuisances to be
