sioners of Easton to keep an accurate account of the receipt of all fines, penalties and forfeitures and of all revenues received from taxes and from other sources in each and every year, and of the expenditure thereof, and within thirty days after the end of each and every year to publish in the newspapers printed in the town of Easton an accurate and itemized statement of all salaries paid to officers of every kind of said town, or extra pay for any duties performed by said officers not within the scope of duties prescribed by said commissioners, or in any manner paid or allowed to persons employed by them, omitting the name of each individual laborer employed by the day in cleaning the streets of said town, or other labor, but giving a general summary thereof under appropriate heads, for the information of the inhabitants of said town.

94. The said commissioners of Easton are authorized and required, in each and every year, to levy and collect a special tax not exceeding ten cents on every one hundred dollars worth of the taxable property of all kinds and descriptions liable to assessment and taxation within the corporate limits of the town of Easton, as now established by law, to pay the interest on the outstanding bonds issued by them under the provisions of the act of 1882, chapter 81, as the same shall full due, and to gradually redeem and retire such bonds until they shall all have been redeemed and retired, and the proceeds of such tax shall be paid to the said commissioners, and forthwith applied by them to the redemption of said bonds, when and as soon as they become redeemable; and the said proceeds are inviolably pledged to the payment of the interest and principal of the said bonds.

Ibid.

95. So much of the proceeds of said tax as may be applicable to the redemption and payment of the principal of the bonds issued under said act of 1882, chapter 81, and which may be collected and received by the commissioners of Easton, for and during the three years next preceding the time after which the said bonds are made redeemable at the pleasure of the said commissioners, when and as soon as the same may be received in each of said years, shall be invested by the said commissioners in
