

1878, ch. 241.

234. If any tenant or person having the care of any house, lot or part of a lot, shall refuse or neglect to level, pave or mend the footway or street in front of the same, according to the directions of the corporation, the said burgess and commissioners may contract to have the same done; and may levy the same with the costs, by way of distress, on such property.

Ibid.

235. The said burgess and commissioners shall, from time to time, make such by-laws and ordinances as they may deem expedient for the comfort, health and convenience of said town, the prevention and abatement of nuisances, preservation of order and suppression of vice and immorality.

1886, ch. 406.

236. They may levy a tax on the property within the town, to such amount as may from time to time be deemed necessary, not to exceed, however, in any one year, ten cents on each one hundred dollars worth of property, and may appoint a collector to collect the same, and prescribe his term of office, responsibility and compensation; and the said collector shall have the same power to distrain for the taxes so levied as the collector of county taxes, and shall collect and pay the same to the burgess and commissioners; and the said burgess and commissioners shall not make contracts or enter into any obligations which will require an expenditure of money in excess of the levy for the year.

1878, ch. 241.

237. The burgess shall be treasurer of the corporation, and shall give bond to the corporation, with security, to be approved by the commissioners, in such penalty as they shall prescribe, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duty as treasurer, and he shall receive and pay away money according to the ordinances of the corporation.

Ibid.

238. The said corporation shall not at any time issue any note, certificate or other device to be circulated as currency.
