

cents; for every release, twenty-five cents; for taking recognizances in each case reported to the circuit court, twenty-five cents each; for each attachment for contempt, twenty-five cents.

1884, ch. 510.

272. The aforesaid fees of said constables and justices for said counties shall be taxed against and paid by the party against whom judgment shall be rendered, unless he or she be discharged therefrom by due course of law; if such party against whom judgment is rendered is unable to pay the same, such fees shall be paid by the county wherein said judgment was rendered; and all fines and penalties received by any justice under the provisions of section 270, shall be accounted for and wholly paid without abatement or deduction therefrom by such justice, to the county commissioners of the county wherein they are collected, for the use of said county; and no part of any fine or penalty enforced or collected under said section shall be paid to any informer.

KEEDYSVILLE.

1872, ch. 251.

273. The citizens of Keedysville, in Washington county, are a body corporate, by the name of "The Burgess and Commissioners of Keedysville," and by that name may sue and be sued, and have and use a common seal.

Ibid.

274. The bounds of said town shall be as follows: beginning at a county road running between the land of Frisby Doup and Samuel Wagoner, and extending five hundred yards on both sides of the turnpike road running from Boonsboro to Sharpsburg, to a certain road leading to Samuel Poy's mill.

Ibid.

275. The male citizens of Keedysville, of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, who have resided in said town for six months next preceding the election, shall elect by ballot, on the first Saturday in May in each year, a burgess, assistant burgess and three commissioners, having in all respects the same qualifications as the voters.
