

1880, ch. 472.

5. The several justices of the peace in and for said county are given full and sufficient authority and jurisdiction to hear, try and determine all cases which may arise under the provisions of the four preceding sections; and the said justices of the peace shall impose the fines provided for in said sections, together with all the costs of the prosecution, upon all persons who, after a fair trial, shall be adjudged guilty of a violation of any of the provisions of said sections; and if any person so convicted shall fail or refuse to pay any fines or costs so imposed, the said justice of the peace shall immediately commit him to the county jail, to be there confined until said fines and costs are paid in full.

Ibid.

6. It shall be the duty of all the bailiffs and constables in the several towns and election districts in said county, to arrest forthwith all persons whom they may see or hear of violating any of the provisions of any of the preceding sections and to take them before the nearest justice of the peace in said county, to be dealt with according to law.

1886, ch. 76. 1888, ch. 149

7. No person, corporation or company shall at any time kill, or expose for sale, transport or have in possession, any partridge or quail, after the same has been killed, for any purpose except for consumption as food, within Wicomico or Worcester counties, nor kill, expose for sale, or have in possession, any of the above named game with the intention of sending or transporting, or having the same sent or transported, beyond the limits of said counties; provided, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the barter or sale of such game for home consumption only by residents of said counties within the limits of said counties.

1888, ch. 149.

8. Any person violating any of the provisions of the preceding section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof before any justice of the peace of Wicomico or Worcester counties, as the case may be, or before the circuit court for either of said counties, having jurisdiction, shall be fined not
