

of the said supervisors in keeping the public roads in their road districts in proper and safe condition; and the county commissioners shall have full and sole power to fix the price to be paid for laborers on the said roads, and to authorize the said supervisors to hire such numbers of them as the said supervisors may deem necessary; and they shall pay the said supervisors such salaries or per diem as they may deem just and reasonable.

1874, ch. 125.

122. Every road supervisor shall be liable to be presented by the grand jury of the county, for malfeasance in office, and upon conviction thereof before the circuit court for the county shall be fined in each case not less than five nor more than twenty dollars, in the discretion of the court; and the bond of the said supervisor shall be liable for said fine.

123. The county commissioners shall have power at any time to remove from office, any road supervisor for what they may deem a neglect of duty or malfeasance in office, and to appoint another road supervisor to fill the vacancy, for the residue of the term; and the term of office of each supervisor shall end with the qualification and induction into office of every new board of county commissioners.

Ibid.

124. All new public roads, hereafter opened in Wicomico county, shall be made thirty feet wide, well drained and graded; and it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to reject all such roads if not put in the most complete order; and they may make at any time such further rules and regulations as they may deem necessary for the better keeping of public roads in said county, not inconsistent with this sub-title of this article.

Ibid.

125. They may cause to be placed at such of the forks of the public roads as they may think proper, finger-boards or signs, showing the prominent places to which said roads lead, and the distance to such places; and any person tearing down or defacing such finger-boards or signs shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof before a justice of the peace, shall be fined not less than five nor more than ten dollars, and shall stand committed to the jail until such fine and costs are paid.
