

necessary; provided, that he shall not summon the same party twice, until he shall have exhausted the whole number liable to such duty in his road district, giving notice of the time and place of meeting; provided, that at least one whole day shall intervene between the time of notice and the day on which the work is to be performed; provided, however, that no person shall be compelled to labor more than four miles from his place of residence.

227. If any person not possessing taxable property assessed at five hundred dollars or upwards, from whom such labor on the public roads may be required, under the provisions of the preceding section, shall make it satisfactorily appear to the road supervisor of the road district in which he resides, that he is physically unable to perform the said labor, either by reason of permanent disability, or that said disability existed at the time at which his services were required, and is not able to pay the commutation hereinafter provided, it shall be the duty of the said supervisor to exempt such person from the performance of said labor and commutation for labor; and in case such supervisor shall refuse to exempt any person who shall apply for exemption, as herein provided, such person, if he shall feel aggrieved by such refusal, may appeal to the county commissioners of the county, whose decision shall be final.

Ibid.

228. The county commissioners of said county may make such commutation of labor for teams and carts or wagons, as they may deem proper.

Ibid.

229. Every person liable as aforesaid to labor on said public roads, who shall fail to obey the summons of the road supervisor, or furnish a substitute, shall, upon demand made by said supervisor, pay to said supervisor the sum of one dollar and fifty cents for each and every day (not exceeding two days) that he shall fail to perform such labor; and the said supervisor shall collect and account, under oath, to the county commissioners, for all sums of money so collected and exemptions granted, and shall apply the said money, under the direction of the said county commissioners, to hiring labor to work on the public roads; and shall pay over to
