

moved from office by the county commissioners for incompetency or neglect of duty, being first given an opportunity to defend himself against any charges; and the office may be filled by them at any time in the event of a vacancy.

1882, ch. 49.

207. Whenever any bridge may need, in the opinion of the county commissioners, any repairs, they shall have power to order that such repairs shall be made under the direction of the road commissioners of the district.

1878, ch. 340.

208. At least three-fourths of all monies to be expended for repairs of roads in each district shall be expended between the fifteenth day of April and the first day of October in each year; the road commissioners of each district shall cause to be put up and maintained guide-posts and finger-boards at cross roads or where roads diverge from each other, designating the nearest prominent point to which such road leads, and the distance thereto. Any person removing or defacing such finger-boards shall be liable to a fine of five dollars, to be imposed by a justice of the peace in the name of the county commissioners.

Ibid.

209. The road commissioners shall be allowed a per diem of two dollars for each day they may be employed as examiners or superintendents of new roads to be altered, or of bridges to be built or repaired. For their duties as road commissioners they shall be entitled to no pay except for actual expenses, which shall not in any one year exceed fifty dollars for a member of the board.

Ibid.

210. In the event of the failure of the county commissioners to secure the services of competent road commissioners upon the terms prescribed in the last preceding section, they are authorized to appoint proper persons to act as road commissioners, which persons shall be real estate owners in the district for which they may be appointed, to whom they may allow a compensation of two dollars per day for each day they may be actually
