

proceedings shall and can be had and taken in the matter as are provided for in the case of condemning, opening, grading and constructing any street or avenue, or part thereof, under the provisions of any of the sections of this sub-title of this article.

239. In condemning, opening, grading and constructing any street or avenue, or part thereof, under the provisions of any of the sections of this sub-title of this article, the examiner or examiners shall assess the gross amount of such damages, the probable cost of opening, grading and construction, and the probable amount of cost and expense of the proceedings in the matter, including the per diem of the examiner or examiners, in such proportions as may be fair and equitable, as benefits upon all the grounds in Baltimore county or adjacent thereto, which shall, in the opinion of the examiner or examiners, be benefited by the condemnation, opening, grading and construction of said street or avenue, or any part thereof.

Ibid.

240. Whenever any street or avenue, or portion thereof, or thoroughfare, is in course of being condemned, opened, graded and constructed under the provisions of any of the sections of this sub-title of this article, and it shall be necessary to erect any bridge or culvert over any water course over which the same may pass, and the county commissioners, upon application being made to them, shall be of the opinion and consider that the public convenience requires the building and erection of such bridge or culvert, they shall appropriate and set aside such sum as may be necessary therefor and convenience may require.

241. It shall be the duty of the county commissioners to cause all buildings binding on any of the paved streets, paved roads and paved avenues of Baltimore county, within two miles of Baltimore city, to be regularly and consecutively numbered, the said numbers to begin at the point on said streets nearest to the city of Baltimore, if such streets, roads and avenues shall extend from or near any boundary line of said city outward; but
