

five thousand dollars, conditioned for the payment of the duties hereinbefore mentioned to the treasurer of Maryland, and that he shall in all things well, truly and faithfully behave and conform himself according to the true intent and meaning of this law; and shall also pay to the treasurer of Maryland the sum of four hundred and fifty dollars as a license.

McMechen v. Mayor, &c., 2 H. & J. 41. Same v. Same, 3 H. & J. 534.

1872, ch. 249.

84. Any auctioneer paying the license fee, and executing the bond prescribed in the preceding section, may make sales of every description of goods, wares and merchandise of every kind, and real estate, and may exercise all the rights and privileges of a general auctioneer to the extent and amount of the sum prescribed in said section; and he shall make, under oath, quarterly returns to the comptroller of the city of Baltimore, showing the full amount of his sales of every kind, distinguishing his sales of goods, wares and merchandise, and personal effects of every kind, from his sales of real estate and houses; but any auctioneer taking out a special license, as provided in section 75, in regard to auctions in Baltimore city, to sell at public auction, stocks of any banks or other incorporated institutions, or State or city loans, shall not be required to make any returns of sales of such securities; and if any auctioneer under said license shall sell any amount exceeding the sum named in the last preceding section, he shall be subject to all the penalties hereinafter imposed upon auctioneers who shall sell without license.

P. L. L., (1860,) art. 4, sec. 96.

85. Each auctioneer so appointed whose sales of goods, wares and merchandise, and personal effects of every kind, exclusive of his real estate sales and sales of houses, shall exceed the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, shall, before he enters upon the duties of his office, enter into a recognizance to the State, with two sufficient securities in the sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned as hereinbefore prescribed, and shall pay to the State treasurer the sum of seven hundred and fifty dollars as a license fee.
