large white oak, in a lane leading from Mrs. Frost's house; thence north seven degrees, east twenty-five hundred feet, to a chestnut tree; thence north eighty-one and a quarter degrees, east two hundred and eighty-four feet, south fifty-five degrees, east twenty-three hundred and seventy feet, south thirty-one degrees, east eight hundred and fifty feet, to a stake in the centre of the road leading to the Cumberland and Pennsylvania railroad depot, and with said road south eight degrees, west three hundred and sixty feet, to a stake standing north sixty-three and a half degrees, east ten feet from the northeast corner of Holley's brewery; thence north eighty-four degrees, east eleven hundred and forty-nine feet, south five degrees, west fifteen hundred and fifty feet, to the point of beginning

<center>1886, ch. 166.</center>

134. The male citizens of the age of twenty-one·years and upwards, who have resided in the town of Frostburg one year preceding the election, shall elect, on the first Monday of April in each year, at the usual place of holding elections in said town, one person residing in said town, and having real and personal property therein to the value of five hundred dollars, mayor of the town of Frostburg.

<center>Ibid.</center>

135. There shall be six councilmen, three of whom shall be elected on the first Monday in April of every second year by the persons qualified to vote for mayor, as prescribed by the preceding section. Said councilmen shall all be citizens of the United States, residents of the town for one year next preceding their election; shall be assessed on the books of the town in a sum not less than one hundred dollars, and shall remain in office two years.

<center>1870, ch. 77.</center>

136. The mayor and councilmen of the town of Frostburg, for each municipal election shall appoint three judges of election, who shall have power to appoint clerks and conduct the elections in all respects as the elections for members of the general assembly are required to be conducted, opening the polls at nine o'clock in the morning, and closing them at six o'clock in