

P. L. L., (1860.) art. 10, sec. 100.

123. They shall appoint a judge or judges of each election, and give one week's notice of the election; and the judge or judges shall appoint the clerk of the election.

Ibid. sec. 101.

124. They shall, at their first meeting after an election, choose one of their number to be president of the board, who shall preside at all meetings of the said commissioners, and preserve order, and carry into full effect the provisions of this sub-title and the ordinances of said commissioners.

Ibid. sec. 102.

125. The commissioners of said village may meet together from time to time, as often as occasion may require, upon the business of said village, and not less than once in every three months.

Ibid. sec. 103.

126. They may appoint a clerk and assign his duties, and allow him such compensation as they may think proper, and if a vacancy occur in the said office at any time, they may fill the same.

Ibid. sec. 104

127. The clerk shall enter all ordinances passed by the commissioners in a book to be kept by them for the purpose; the said ordinances shall be open at all times for the inspection of any person interested, and copies of all ordinances shall be put up in the most public places in the village.

Ibid. sec. 105

128. The said commissioners may make all such by-laws, regulations and ordinances, not contrary to law, as they may from time to time deem wise, equitable and expedient for the comfort, health, convenience and prosperity of the village and its inhabitants; for the prevention or removal of nuisances, preservation of health, and suppression of vice and immorality within said village.

Ibid. sec. 106.

129. They may lay an equal tax on the property in said village to such amount as may from time to time be deemed necessary,
