

1870, ch. 432.

32. If either of the parties making or keeping a joint fence between arable or enclosed lands shall refuse or delay to repair his proportion thereof, within twenty days after notice in writing given to him or his agent, upon proof thereof before a justice of the peace, the justice may, under his hand and seal, authorize the party aggrieved to repair said fence, and for so doing he shall be reimbursed all costs and reasonable expenses necessarily incurred, to be recovered from the party so refusing and delaying, in the manner debts of a like amount are recoverable, and he shall have a lien on the adjacent arable lands or farm of the person who shall have refused or delayed to make and repair said fence, so as to secure the reimbursement of the cost and expenses of such making and repairing, in the event of the transfer of said land; provided, the proceedings to enforce such lien be commenced by the party, or his representatives, within two years next after such repair shall have been done.

Ibid.

33. If joint fences are not made and kept in repair according to the provisions of the two preceding sections, the party aggrieved or likely to be injured, instead of pursuing the remedy prescribed in the preceding section, may discontinue the said fence, upon giving three months' notice in writing to the party refusing or delaying, his agent or tenant; and in all other cases, unless by mutual consent, twelve months' notice shall be required to discontinue any joint fence.

FISH.

1882, ch. 468.

34. It shall be unlawful for any person to take, catch or destroy any fish in any manner during the month of May in the waters of Carroll or Frederick counties; provided, that the Potomac river shall be exempted from the provisions of this section.

Ibid.

35. Any person violating the provisions of the preceding section shall, upon conviction before any justice of the peace of said counties, be liable to a fine of not less than five nor more than
