

1862, ch. 151.

289. The commissioners shall have power to make all such by-laws and regulations as shall not conflict with the constitution and laws of the State, and shall also have power to pass ordinances regulating the market, the inspection, measurement and weight of all provisions, grain and wood sold in said village; to suppress all disorderly meetings; to prevent firing cannon, guns, squibs, or any kind of fire-arms or fireworks in said village; to suppress and abate all nuisances; to prevent stock of all kinds from running at large; to prevent any immoderate driving through the streets with carriage, stage, cart, wagon or other vehicle, or on horseback, so as to endanger the lives, limbs or property of the citizens of said village, or disturb the quiet enjoyment of the streets and thoroughfares; and to prevent the parading and indecent exhibition of any stallion through the streets; and they may impose fines, not exceeding ten dollars for any offence, on any person violating said ordinances.

Ibid.

290. They may provide by ordinance for the immediate arrest, without warrant, of any person violating any town ordinance, by driving through the streets, when in the judgment of the president or any two of said commissioners the delay necessary to the issuing of a warrant will be dangerous to the peace and quiet of the village, or the lives, limbs and property of its citizens; and when it shall appear that the offender is intoxicated, they shall take charge of the horse and vehicle and deposit them in some place of safety until the offender shall be sober.

Ibid.

291. They shall have power to establish the limits and width of the streets of said village, and to remove obstructions therefrom, and with the consent of two-thirds of the owners of the property through which they may pass, may open new streets, lanes and alleys.

Ibid.

292. They shall have power to provide for the payment of the damages and expenses of opening, widening, laying out and grading of streets, lanes and alleys in said village, by levying and
