

and shall be open at all times for the inspection of any person interested, and copies of all ordinances shall be set up in the most public places in the town, that the same may be generally made known.

1867, ch. 218.

851. The commissioners may pass all by-laws and ordinances necessary to give effect and operation to all the powers vested in the said corporation, and may impose fines, penalties and forfeitures for the breach thereof; but no ordinance of the commissioners shall impose a fine, penalty or forfeiture, for any one offence, of more than ten dollars.

Ibid.

352. They shall have power to levy and collect taxes in the town, not exceeding in any one year thirty cents in the hundred dollars, on the assessable property in the town.

Ibid.

353. They shall once in three years, or oftener, if they think proper, appoint an assessor, who shall, under oath, value and assess the property in the town, in the same manner and with like authority as county assessors proceed to assess in the county.

Ibid.

354. If any owner of property assessed in the town shall feel aggrieved by the assessment made by said assessor, he may appeal to the president and commissioners, who may make such deductions therein as to them may seem just and reasonable.

Ibid.

355. The commissioners may annually appoint an active and discreet person to be bailiff, constable and collector, within the limits of the town, who, before he shall proceed to the execution of his office, shall take an oath before a justice of the peace for the county, that he will faithfully and impartially perform the duties required of him as bailiff and collector, within the limits of the town, without favor, affection or partiality, according to the best of his skill and judgment, and shall also give bond in
