

ful performance of the duties imposed upon him by law as clerk and treasurer, which bond shall be recorded in the office of the clerk of the circuit court for said county.

P. L. L., (1860,) art. 9, sec. 37.

52. He shall, upon application, exhibit the books, papers and levies in his office, and make copies or extracts thereof to any person, free of charge.

1886, ch. 119.

53. He shall receive a salary not exceeding six hundred dollars nor less than five hundred dollars, and shall receive no extra or other compensation for duties now imposed upon him by law, or which may properly appertain to his office.

1882, ch. 454.

54. He shall collect, receive and disburse all monies which may come into his hands as treasurer, for the payment of the jurors, bailiffs, witnesses, messengers and criers attending the circuit court for Charles county, and the payment of the county bonds and interest thereon, and discharge all other duties herein imposed on him; and for the purpose of making said disbursements, he shall attend at the court-house during the sessions of the circuit court; he shall keep a complete set of books, showing the receipts of all monies received by him as treasurer, and the disbursements of the same, which said books shall be at all times open to the inspection of the public; and he shall, immediately after each term of the circuit court for said county, make a full and detailed report and exhibit to the county commissioners, of his receipts and disbursements, together with the vouchers therefor; and a failure so to do for thirty days after the adjournment of said court shall be cause for removal from his said office, in the discretion of the county commissioners.

Ibid.

55. It shall be the duty of the county commissioners to levy, for the use of said treasurer, annually, in advance, such sum of money as they may deem sufficient to discharge all claims which may accrue for the attendance and pay of bailiffs, crier, messen-