

1888, ch. 352.

190. Any person violating the provisions of the preceding section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof before any justice of the peace in said county, shall pay a fine of twenty dollars for each and every offence; one-half of the said fine to be paid to the informer and the remainder as hereinafter directed; and on failure to pay said fine, shall be committed to the house of correction or the county jail, for ten days, in the discretion of the justice of the peace trying the case.

Ibid.

191. The possession by any person within said county of any wild water-fowl, without having taken out the license required by section 189 to enable him to take or kill the same, shall be considered prima facie evidence of the violation of the provisions of said section.

Ibid.

192. One-half of all fines collected by any justice of the peace in said county, for a violation of any of the provisions of section 189, shall be paid by said justice of the peace to the board of school commissioners for the benefit of the public schools of said county, and the other half to the informer.

Ibid.

193. It shall be the duty of the sheriff of said county, and the constables of the several districts thereof, to arrest any person violating any of the provisions of section 189, and take him before the nearest justice of the peace, to be dealt with as hereinbefore directed.

1888, ch. 466.

194. It shall be lawful for the bona fide citizens of Charles county to shoot wild water-fowl from sink boxes in the waters of said county.
