

distances, to wit: beginning on the Choptank river, in said county, at a point one hundred and fifty feet distant northwesterly from the centre of West End avenue, as recently laid out by the building and loan association of Cambridge, and running in a parallel line with said avenue to the south side of the county road, known as the Horn's Point road; then with the south side of said road to the present limits or line of the said town; thence running and binding with said line to the western boundary of said town; thence running and binding with the southern and eastern lines or limits of said town to the foot of Cemetery avenue; thence across the creek and in a parallel line with Maryland avenue to the county road leading from the avenue last aforesaid to the Jacktown road; thence with the lands of W. Wilson Byrn, and binding therewith, to the Choptank river, and thence running and binding with said river to the place of beginning.

43. Nothing contained in this sub-title of this article shall be construed to impose upon said town, or the inhabitants thereof, the obligation of maintaining and keeping in repair the bridge connecting East and West Cambridge, but the county commissioners shall have, maintain and control the same; provided, however, that said town commissioners shall preserve order on, and have and possess police jurisdiction over said bridges, as fully and in all respects as over other portions of said town.

Ibid.

44. The said town shall be divided into five wards, which shall be bounded as follows, to wit: First ward—beginning for the first ward at the foot of Gay street, and running and binding with the creek and Choptank river, (including the long wharf,) to the beginning boundary of the said town on said river, and running and binding with the northwestern line of said town to Glasgow street extended (Hambrook's road); thence with Glasgow street to High street, to Court lane, and thence to the place of beginning. Second ward—beginning for the second ward at the corner of High and Glasgow streets; thence with High to Pine street; thence with Pine to Washington; thence with Pine street extended in a straight line to the southern limits of said town; thence
