

breast of their coat; and the said board of police commissioners shall have power and authority to make and pass such by-laws, rules and regulations governing the police appointed by them as in their judgment shall best insure the efficiency of the force and preserve the peace of the town, and direct how the town shall be patrolled by said police, so that at least one policeman shall be in the vicinity of Cambridge harbor and bridge over the same; and the said police commissioners shall allow each policeman, for the faithful performance of his duties, not less than twenty-five nor more than thirty dollars per month, and at the expiration of each month's service of a policeman the said board of police commissioners, or a majority of them, shall give to said policeman an order on the town clerk and treasurer of Cambridge for the month's pay of said policeman, which said order shall be paid in cash on presentation to said town clerk and treasurer.

47. It shall be the duty of the police of Cambridge to faithfully perform the duties imposed upon them by this sub-title of this article, and the duty that may be required of them by the by-laws, rules and regulations passed by the said police board; also, to arrest all persons found drunk, or disorderly persons, and to enter all places where they have reason to believe that gambling is going on or intoxicating spirits are sold contrary to law, or places where any other unlawful act is committed, and to arrest all persons found in such places engaged, or believed to have been engaged, in said unlawful acts. All persons arrested by said police on the Sabbath shall be taken to the county jail, and there placed in the custody of the sheriff, or his deputy, until Monday morning, when they shall be taken before a justice of the peace, or a judge of the circuit court. Persons arrested on other days shall be immediately taken before a justice of the peace, or judge of the circuit court, to be dealt with according to law. But nothing contained in this or the preceding section shall be so construed as to lessen or relieve the town bailiff, constables or sheriff, of duties imposed upon them by law.
