

1894, ch. 151.

319. Every will or other testamentary instrument made out of the State shall be held to be valid in Maryland, if the same be made according to the forms required by the law of the place where the same was made or by the law of the place where the testator was domiciled when the same was made, or according to the forms required by the law of this State; and if the testator was originally domiciled in Maryland, although at the time of making the will or at the time of his death, he may be domiciled elsewhere, the said will or testamentary instrument then so executed shall be admitted to probate in any orphans' court of this State; and when so admitted, shall be governed by and construed and interpreted according to the law of Maryland, without regard to the lex domicilii, unless the testator shall expressly declare a contrary intention in said will or testamentary instrument.

1894, ch 405.

326 a. No will, testament, codicil or other testamentary paper shall be subject to caveat or other objection to its validity after the expiration of three years from its probate.

Garrison v. Hill, 81 Md. 551. Manning v. Carruthers, 83 Md. 8.

1890, ch. 416.

331. Every executor or other person exhibiting a will shall be examined on oath whether or not he knows of any other will or codicil, and in what manner the will or codicil exhibited came into his hands.

1890, ch. 416. 1892, ch. 81.

334. In proving a will or codicil all the witnesses thereto shall be examined if their attendance can be had, and the register of wills of any county or of the city of Baltimore where any will shall have been filed for probate, or any deputy of his when directed so to do by an order of the orphans' court may examine and take the deposition of any or all of the witnesses thereto who from any cause cannot conveniently attend to the office of said register of wills, wherever he may find such witness, or witnesses, whether within the State of Maryland or beyond its jurisdiction, provided that before the original will is taken from the office of said
