

copies of all the opinions of the court of appeals, to be paid for by the said clerk out of the fees of his office.

1904, ch. 327, sec. 7.

6. Volume 97 of the Maryland reports, now in course of publication, shall be paid for by the comptroller and treasurer in the manner now provided by law ; and that this act shall be applicable to the publication of the reports subsequent to said volume 97.

Ibid. sec. 8.

7. The State reporter and codifier shall forthwith, after the session of the general assembly in the year 1910, and decennially thereafter, prepare a code of the public general laws of the State of Maryland. The said code when prepared shall be submitted to a commission of three men learned in the law, who shall be appointed by the court of appeals, and if they, or a majority of them, shall approve the same in writing, then the reporter and codifier shall cause advertisements to be published in at least two daily papers of the State for one month asking for bids for the publication of such code within six months thereafter ; the number of volumes to be prescribed by the court of appeals. And the lowest bidder therefor, upon giving bond to the State of Maryland in the sum of ten thousand dollars, shall receive the contract for the publication of such code of public general laws, and if the said code of public general laws when published by said publisher shall be approved by the commission hereinbefore provided for, the said publisher shall be paid for the same by the State of Maryland, on the order of the comptroller to the treasurer of the State, out of such funds of the State as have not been otherwise appropriated. The said State reporter and codifier shall provide in like manner, from time to time, according to need, for the codification and publication of a code of public local laws of the State, but may have the same printed collectively or separately for the several counties in such paper binding as he may deem for the best interest and advantage of the people of the State.

Ibid. sec. 9.

8. Immediately upon the completion of the code of public general laws in the year 1910, and decennially thereafter, the same shall be submitted by the State reporter and codifier to a commission to be appointed by the court of appeals of Maryland, and after examination, if a majority thereof shall so
