

ment the prisoner shall commit any act of insubordination against the prison authorities the warden and board of directors of the penitentiary may at their discretion annul such deductions ; and further provided, that should the prisoner commit any offense for which he shall be convicted by a jury all deductions theretofore made shall be thereby annulled.

1888, art. 27, sec. 430. 1860, art. 73, sec. 41. 1837, ch. 320, sec. 25.

595. The men and women shall always be kept separate, the former to be locked at night separate in the east wing and the latter to be kept as much as possible from each other in their proper department.

Ibid. sec. 431. 1860, art. 73, sec. 42. 1837, ch. 320, sec. 25.

596. The slops and offal of the prison shall be sold or used in raising hogs or other stock for the use of the house, and none of the officers shall be allowed to raise stock of any kind within the walls. The grounds within the prison walls may be cultivated for the use of the prison, under the direction of the warden, for the purpose of keeping down unhealthy exhalations from weeds, rubbish, et cetera; the warden may keep a horse and cow for his own use, to be attended by his own servants, and fed at his own expense. The walls and houses must be whitewashed at least three times a year.

Ibid. sec. 432. 1860, art 73, sec. 43. 1837, ch 320, sec 25.

597. The convicts shall have three meals a day, consisting in all of one and a quarter pounds of flour, three-quarters of a pound of beef, or a half a pound of bacon, of good, coarse quality, one herring, one gill of molasses, one pint of potatoes or other vegetables, with soup, and a proper allowance of rye coffee, tea and salt; and the physician may vary the diet when necessary.

Ibid. sec. 433. 1860, art 73, sec. 44. 1837, ch. 320, sec. 25,

598. The cooking and refectory shall be regulated by the board of directors; but no prisoner shall receive anything but the prison allowance.

Removal of Insane Convicts.

1890, ch. 123.

599. Whenever the board of directors of the penitentiary may deem it necessary, they shall have full power to summon the State lunacy commission to examine and pass upon the