Employment of Children in Factories.

1902, ch. 566. 1906, ch. 192.

4. No proprietor, owner, superintendent, manager or foreman, or other subordinate or agent of any mill, factory, workshop, office, restaurant, hotel, apartment house, store, telephone or telegraph office, or other establishment or business shall, after the first day of September, in the year 1906, employ for wages or hire, or retain in employment in any such mill, factory, workshop, office, restaurant, hotel, apartment house, store, telephone or telegraph office, or other establishment or business, any person or persons under twelve (12) years of age, except in the counties, from June 1st to October 15th, in every year.

1906, ch. 192.

5. No child between the age of twelve (12) and sixteen (16) shall be employed, permitted or suffered to work in any office, establishment or business mentioned in the preceding section unless the person or corporation employing him or her produces and keeps on file and accessible to the inspectors authorized by this sub-title and the attendance officer of the public schools, an employment permit, and keep a complete list of all such children employed therein on file; and in the
