

CHAPTER 322.

AN ACT to repeal and re-enact with amendments section three hundred and sixty-eight, of article eleven, of the Code of Public Local Laws of Maryland, title "Frederick county," sub-title "Middletown," and to add to said article the following sections to be designated "section three hundred and seventy-three A, section three hundred and seventy-three B, section three hundred and seventy-three C and section three hundred and seventy-three D.

Repeal SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That section three hundred and sixty-eight, of article eleven, of the Maryland Code of Public Local Laws, entitled "Frederick county," sub-title "Middletown," be repealed and re-enacted so as to read as follows, and that the following additional sections be added to said article of said Local Code to be known as "sections three hundred and seventy-three A, and three hundred and seventy-three B, and three hundred and seventy-three C, and three hundred and seventy-three D."

Fines, &c. SEC. 368. All fines, forfeitures and penalties under the ordinances of the corporation shall be recoverable before the burgess, or any one of said commissioners, or before any justice of the peace for Frederick county, in the same manner as small debts, and any person refusing to pay such fines or forfeitures shall be committed to the jail of Frederick county until payment or discharged in due course of law, and each of said commissioners shall in virtue of his office have and exercise all the powers of a justice of the peace in so far as the recovery of said fines and forfeitures are concerned, and may commit to jail for the non-payment thereof.

Lock-up. SEC. 373 A. The burgess and commissioners of Middletown shall have power to build a lock-up to be used for lawful purposes, the cost of which shall not exceed one hundred and fifty dollars, and to levy the necessary taxes therefor.

Animals at large. SEC. 373 B. The burgess and commissioners of Middleton shall have power to prevent by ordinance and effectually prohibit horses, cattle and all other animals from running at large upon the streets, lanes, alleys and other public places within the corporate limits of Middletown.

Railroads. SEC. 373 C. The burgess and commissioners of Middletown shall have full power and authority to authorize and permit and by ordinance to grant to any railroad company whose road enters or intended to enter the limits of the corporation of Middletown, the right and privilege of laying down and constructing its track and of building and grading its road along, through and over