

give at least ten days notice thereof by notices set up at five of the most prominent places in the town; and at some meeting prior to the second Monday of April in each year, shall appoint some person to act as judge of said election, who before acting as such, shall qualify in the same manner as judges of election for State and county offices in this State are required to qualify before a justice of the peace, and shall open the polls at two o'clock, p. m., on the second Monday in April in each year, and close the same at six o'clock, p. m., and the person voted for for president as aforesaid at said election, who shall receive the highest number of votes shall be president as aforesaid, and the persons in number according to the preceding section voted for at said election for commissioners for said town, who shall respectively receive the highest number of votes shall be commissioners as aforesaid. Elections.

SEC. 132. If at any election to be held as aforesaid, it shall appear by the certificate of the judge of said election that any two or more persons voted for as president, or any two or more persons voted for as commissioners, have received the same number of votes so that there shall be no choice for president, or no choice for an entire board of commissioners, if there shall be two of said five officers duly elected, the persons so elected together with the president and commissioners holding over, (if any,) shall assemble immediately, and having qualified, shall proclaim a new election to supply the vacancies occasioned by the failure to elect, giving at least five days notice of said election. Cases of a tie vote

SEC. 133. If at the election to be held on the second Monday of April, eighteen hundred and ninety, it shall appear that less than two of said officers have been elected, then the board of commissioners now in office, or any three of them, shall proclaim a new election, giving at least five days notice thereof; in case of the failure to elect four commissioners on the second Monday in April, eighteen hundred and ninety, the division into classes prescribed in section one hundred and thirty-one, shall not take place until after the vacancies are filled; and should a vacancy arise in any of said offices because of the death, resignation, refusal to qualify, or otherwise, of the persons elected to fill them, the said board shall proclaim a new election to fill the same, giving at least five days notice thereof. New election.

134. The president and commissioners so elected may meet and adjourn from time to time as they may think proper, at which meetings the president, (or in his absence, or in case of a temporary vacancy in the office of president, such other member of the board as it shall name) shall preside, and vote on all questions before them. Meetings.

134 A. The said board shall annually appoint by ballot a treasurer, who shall not be selected from the members of said
