

SEC. 3. And be it enacted, That whenever the said company in the construction of its railroad as authorized by this act shall find it necessary to cross or intersect or run along any established road, street or other way, it shall be the duty of said company so to construct the said railroad across such established road, street or other way as not to impede the passage or transportation of persons or property along the same, and when it shall be necessary to pass the said railroad through the land of any individual, the said railroad shall so construct its road as not to interfere with the grade of the wagon ways of the said individual which are necessary and proper from one part of the land to another, and said company shall have the right to construct its tracks across any other railroad by overhead bridge or beneath said tracks and not otherwise.

SEC. 4. And be it enacted, That nothing in this act shall prevent the proper county authorities, or the authorities of any town through which said railroad shall pass, at any time at their option from altering the grade, or otherwise improving all streets and roads occupied by this railway, or the said authorities from so altering and improving such streets and roads and sewerage thereof as may be under their authority or control, and in such event it shall be the duty of said company at its own expense, to change the said railway so as to conform to such grade and pavement.

SEC. 5. And be it enacted, That the capital stock of said company shall not be less than one hundred and fifty thousand ($150,000) dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000) dollars and the said stock shall be divided into shares of one hundred dollars each, and shall be deemed personal property, transferable in such manner as the by-laws of said company may direct, that whenever fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars in stock shall be subscribed for and 25 per cent. thereof in cash actually paid in said company may commence the construction of the road.

SEC. 6. And be it enacted, That the said company shall place first-class cars on said railroad with all modern improvements for the convenience of passengers, and shall run cars thereon through the day, and as late as eleven o'clock, past meridian, and if said company shall be unable to procure a right of way for its tracks, or for necessary passage and freight rooms, ticket offices, stables and depots by agreement with the owners of land, needed therefor, the same may be obtained by condemnation.

SEC. 7. And be it enacted, That the said company shall provide such passenger rooms, offices, stables and depots, at
