The Secretary of State, Hon. Edward LeCompte, appeared and delivered the following veto message from the Executive:

STATE OF MARYLAND,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Annapolis, March 24th, 1892.

Gentlemen of the House of Delegates:

I respectfully return without my approval House bill No. 187.

By this bill it is proposed to amend and add additional sections to chapter 334, of the Acts of 1890, regulating the sale and granting of licenses for the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors in Baltimore county.

Section 9 A of this bill proposes as follows: "That if any person to whom a license has been granted under said Act shall desire to remove from his place of business to some other place in Baltimore county other than that for which said license was originally granted, the said license shall be transferrable," and so on, "from place to place during the time for which said license was originally granted; provided, however, that before such license shall be thus transferred, the holder thereof shall make a new application as provided in said Act, and upon the filing of said application, the clerk shall forthwith give notice in some newspaper published in Baltimore county, for two successive weeks, giving notice of said application for transfer, specifying the kind of license sought to be transferred, and the place where the business is to be conducted under said removal." And stating that
