Whereupon, it appeared that a majority of all the members elected to said House of Delegates being present and voting, the Hon. Arthur P. Gorman had received 80 votes, and the Hon. Lloyd Lowndes had received 6 votes, and that the Hon. Arthur P. Gorman had received a majority of the whole number of votes cast in the said House of Delegates, the same being a majority of all the votes of the said House of Delegates, for Senator in Congress from this State in succession to Hon. Arthur P. Gorman, for the term of six years from March 4th, 1893, and the said fact was accordingly so entered on the Journal of the House of Delegates by the Clerk thereof.

Immediately thereafter, the House of Delegates, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 1, title 2, of the Revised Statutes of the United States, proceeded openly, by the viva voce vote of each member present, a majority of all the Members elected to said House of Delegates being present and voting, to name one person as a Senator in Congress from this State to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the Hon. Ephraim K. Wilson, a Senator in the Congress of the United States from this State, who died during the recess of the Legislature of this State, for the term ending on the 4th day of March, 1897.

The roll being called, it appeared by a viva voce vote of each member present, that
