

Section 178, line 17, strike out the word "three" and insert in lieu thereof the word "six."

Section 178, line 18, insert before the word "year" the word "fourth."

Section 179, line 12, strike out the word "three" and insert in lieu thereof the word "six," and in same line, insert before the word "year" the word "fourth."

Section 179, lines 28 and 29, strike out the following words: "Undergo confinement in the Jail or House of Correction for not less than thirty days and not more than ninety days, and a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars," and insert in lieu thereof the following words: "Pay a fine amounting to double the amount of taxes which would have been due upon such property if the same had been duly returned in said schedules and valued for the purposes of taxation, and in the trial of said cause the jury shall have the right and it shall be their duty to find from the evidence the amount of taxes which would have been due upon said property, if the same had been duly returned in said schedule."

Section 179. At the end of section add the following words: "The schedules required to be returned by this Act shall not be inspected by the public or any persons other than those whose official duty may require them to inspect the same, and such officials shall in no case divulge the contents of the same, unless required to do so before a judicial or other proper tribunal, and a violation of this provision by any such official named in this Act and appointed by the Governor, shall be justifiable cause for his removal at once by the Governor, and shall be taken and considered a violation of the oath of office prescribed by this Act; this provision prohibiting the divulging of the contents of said schedule shall apply to the County Commissioners, members of the Appeal Tax Court of Baltimore city, State Tax Commissioner and their respective employees, as well as all other officers who may by virtue of their official duties have access to said schedules, and their respective oaths of office shall be taken and considered to include the observance of this provision, and any such official who violates the provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine not exceed-