

references to all opinions of the Court of Appeals of Maryland construing or referring to the sections of said original Constitution or amendments.

That the Constitution and amendments so printed and bound, shall be printed on paper and with size of type and octavo size as defined and described in the law relating to Public Printer, for which the said Public Printer shall be paid the prices prescribed in said law.

That the said copies bound in cloth or linen, shall in form of style of binding be similar to the copy of the Constitution printed and published by John Murphy & Co., of Baltimore city, in 1867, a copy of which is now in State Library.

For the work and labor of binding said copies of Constitution, the said Public Printer shall not be paid more than a fair market price for similar work, the same to be ascertained by the Finance Committee of the Senate.

And it is further ordered by the Senate, That the Public Printer shall submit the proof of said Constitution and amendments, with references to the opinions of the Court of Appeals to the said Finance Committee, whose duty it shall be to examine, revise and correct the same, and said Committee shall furnish said Printer with the said amendments and references to opinions of Court of Appeals as aforesaid.

Upon the completion of said work the Public Printer shall submit the same to said Committee on Finance, and said Committee shall inspect the same, and if said work is found by said Committee to be done in conformity with this order and the contract of Public Printer and the State, then the said Committee shall ascertain the amount to be paid the said Public Printer in conformity with the contract and market price aforesaid, and shall give the order on the Comptroller for the amount so ascertained, and without such order no money shall be paid by the Comptroller for said work.

And it is further ordered by the Senate, That the entire cost of printing and binding said Constitution and amendments and references to opinions of Court
