John Temple-

Whereas, Terrane Doyle, became the purchaser of lot number 346, westward of Fort Cumberland, who paid for the same on the second of September, seventeen hundred and ninety four, and assigned his right to the said lot, to Luke Pentoney, who, on the eighth of September, eighteen hundred and eight, obtained a patent: And whereas, by the mistake and inadvertance of the then register of the land office, a proclamation warrant was issued to Robert Sinclair, to resurvey and affect the said lot, who assigned the same to Peter Devicman, who assigned the same to John Templeman, and the said John Templeman had the same resurveyed, and a certificate thereof returned to the land office, and on the sixth day of September seventeen hundred and ninety six, paid to the treasurer of the western shore the sum of twelve pounds ten shillings, for caution, and five shillings for improvements, and on the ninth day of July, eighteen hundred and one, obtained a patent for the same, Therefore,

Resolved, That the treasurer of the western shore pay to John Templeman, or his order, the sum of thirty-four dollars, with interest thereon from the sixth day of September, seventeen hundred and ninety six, out of any unappropriated money in the treasury, to reimburse him the sum paid into the treasury, on the sixth of September, seventeen hundred and ninety six on a proclamation warrant to resurvey and affect lot number three hundred and forty six, west of Fort Cumberland, in Allegany county, which warrant issued improperly by the then register of the land office of the western shore.
