

at Rockville on the Tuesday succeeding the date of said primaries. The Election Supervisors shall on that day tabulate the vote and certify the result to the governing bodies of the political parties.

"Sec. 6. To prevent voters belonging to or acting with one political party from inadvertently or intentionally casting their ballots for candidates for nomination or for election as delegates to any nominating convention of any other party, the ballots of said party shall be printed upon paper of different colors, and until after the next general registration, every person offering to vote shall be required to state to which party he belongs and the candidate of which party he intends to vote for at the State or county election, and he shall be supplied only with the official ballot prepared for the candidates of such party.

"Sec. 7. The polls shall be opened at nine o'clock, a. m. and closed at 6 o'clock, p. m., on the day fixed for said primary. The books of registry shall be furnished the return judge of each polling place, for the purpose of determining the right of the party to vote, and no one shall be entitled to vote at said primary election who is not a registered voter in the precinct in which he applied to vote; provided, however, that any person who may since the last preceding registration, come of age or otherwise acquire the right to vote at the election next succeeding said primary election, may vote upon satisfying the judges by proper evidence that he will be entitled to register under the laws of this State at the next succeeding registration, and for the purposes of this section, the said judges of election may examine upon oath or affirmation such witnesses as may be adduced before them, including the applicant himself; the person making said oaths and affirmations shall be subject to the same penalties as if the same were made in judicial proceedings. But the said judges of election are not to make any marks or entries whatever upon said registration books, but are to use the same only for the purpose of determining the right of an applicant to vote.

"Sec. 8. The clerks in each precinct shall keep in
