

whether a voter is entitled to vote and such persons shall withdraw at once after their statement shall have been given. Any person desiring to vote shall give his name and if requested so to do, his residence, to one of the ballot judges to be designated for this purpose by the judges who shall thereupon announce the same in a loud and distinct tone of voice, and if such name is found by the Judges of Election upon the list of registered voters, or if the person offering to vote shall satisfy the judges of his having acquired the right to register at the next registration as aforesaid, the voter shall be allowed to enter the space enclosed by the guard rail as above provided; a ballot judge shall then give him one, and only one ballot; before handing the ballot to the voter, the ballot clerk shall place his own initials immediately beneath the fac simile signature and so that the same may plainly appear when the ballot shall have been folded; besides the election officers not more than four voters in excess of the number of voting shelves or compartments provided shall be allowed in said enclosed space at one time. On receipt of his ballot the voter shall forthwith and without leaving the enclosed space, retire to one of the voting shelves or compartments and shall prepare his ballot in accordance with the rules or regulations furnished by the governing body of each of said political parties to the election supervisors and by them transmitted to the judges of election; said rules or regulations shall be furnished the election supervisors at least fifteen days prior to the date of said primary election, and shall be published at least once in two or more newspapers published in said county prior to the day of said primary election, one of which newspapers, if possible, shall be of the political faith opposed to that of a majority of the board of election supervisors. After so preparing his ballot the voter shall fold the same without displaying for whom he has voted, and in such manner that the fac simile signature and the initials of the ballot judge shall be easily seen, he shall hand the same to one of the judges of election who shall forthwith deposit it in the proper ballot box and the said voter shall immediately retire from the room; but no ballot