

hour. Amid all the travail that now lies ahead of us, we shall come again to know our own soul. Let us then, in the spirit of God's chosen crusaders, go forward, bending our united wills to the high purpose of restoring God's peace upon the earth.

America means too much, not only to us, but to all the world, for us to think of anything but Victory, smashing Victory. And as I see before me tonight the united purpose of the people of Prince George's County, as I realize the limitless potentiality in the combined peoples of all the communities of all our State and possessions, there can be no question as to the outcome of this war, or of any just war to which the American people set their minds and wills.

We must win, and by the help of God, fighting as free men in a just cause, we will win!
