It is believed, that this brief catalogue is nearly perfect of the publications by States of the Union, up to this period; but it does not, of course, comprise a tenth of the valuable historical volumes printed by the various Historical Societies of most of the above-named States, and of other States not enumerated in the list. Our own Historical Society has contributed about seven volumes, 8vo., to Local History and Annals chiefly, and possesses the superb index in manuscript, to the Maryland Documents in the State Paper Office, London, prepared for the Society, by direction of the late George Peabody, and presented by him. Besides these treasures, our Society was enriched by the Legislature of 1846, 1847, by eighth bound volumes of State
