Pending the consideration of the unfavorable reports,

Mr. McLane submitted the following order:

Ordered, That the bills relating to Local Option and Temperance, be recommitted to the Committee on Finance with instructions to report a bill entitled an Act to enable the qualified voters of the State of Maryland to determine by ballot whether spirituous or fermented liquor shall be sold in said State, and to provide for the deficiency that the prohibition of the sale thereof will occasion in the revenue of the State.

Which was rejected by yeas and nays as follows:
