

who was in service on January 1, 1942, may remain, or be reinstated, in service after attaining such age, if in the opinion of his department head he is capable of performing the duties of his position and if his department head gives notice in writing to the Board of Trustees of intention to retain or reinstate such person in service, but the service of such person shall continue only until July 1, 1947, or to any earlier time at which he may voluntarily retire or at which the department head may determine that the employee is no longer needed in the department. Provided, however, that no such person shall be retained or reinstated when there is available to fill his position an eligible person below the age of seventy (70).

Should any beneficiary be restored to active service under the provisions of this sub-section, his retirement allowance shall cease, he shall again become a member of the Retirement System, and he shall contribute thereafter at the same rate he paid prior to retirement. Anything in this Article to the contrary notwithstanding, any prior service certificate on the basis of which his service was computed at the time of his retirement shall be restored to full force and effect, and, in addition, upon his subsequent retirement he shall be credited with all his services as a member.

(4) Upon retirement for ordinary disability a member shall receive a service retirement allowance if he has attained the age of 60, otherwise he shall receive an ordinary disability retirement which shall consist of:

(a) An annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions at the time of retirement; and

(b) A pension which, together with his annuity, shall provide a total retirement allowance equal to ninety per centum of one-seventieth of his average final compensation multiplied by the number of years of his creditable service, if such retirement allowance exceeds one-quarter of his average final compensation; otherwise a pension which, together with his annuity, shall provide a total retirement allowance equal to one-quarter of his average final compensation, provided, however, that no such allowance shall exceed ninety per centum of one-seventieth of his average final compensation multiplied by the number of years which would be creditable to him were his service to continue until the attainment of age 60.

(6) Upon retirement for accidental disability a member shall receive a service retirement allowance if he has attained the age of 60; otherwise he shall receive an accidental disability retirement allowance which shall consist of:
