

this sub-title without having obtained a license therefor; provided, however, that in the case of a dissolution of a partnership by death, the surviving partner or partners may operate under the license of the partnership for a period of sixty (60) days; and provided further that the heirs or legal representatives of a deceased person and the receivers and trustees in bankruptcy appointed by any competent authority may operate under the license of the person so succeeded in possession by such heir, representative, receiver or trustee in bankruptcy for such period as may be required for the administration of the licensee's estate. If two or more persons constitute a single vendor as defined by Section 259 (b) of this sub-title, such persons may operate a single retail establishment under one license and in such case neither the retirement of one or more of such persons from business in such establishment nor the entrance of one or more persons thereinto shall effect the license or require the issuance of a new license. The license required by this section shall be in addition to all other licenses required to be taken out by any person under the laws of this State.

297. Each applicant for a license required by Section 296 of this sub-title shall on or before the first day of July, 1947, make out and deliver to the Comptroller, upon a blank to be furnished by him for that purpose, a statement showing the name of the applicant, each retail establishment where the applicant's business is to be conducted, the kind or nature of such business and such other information as the Comptroller may prescribe.

298. At the time of making his application as required by Section 297 of this sub-title, the applicant shall pay to the Comptroller a license fee in the sum of one dollar ($1) for each retail establishment where he proposes to carry on his business. Upon receipt of such application and the fee as herein prescribed, the Comptroller shall issue to the applicant a license for each retail establishment designated in the application, authorizing the applicant to engage in business at such retail establishment. The license shall be non-transferrable except as otherwise provided in this sub-title, and shall be displayed in the applicant's place of business. Except as otherwise provided in this sub-title, the license issued as herein provided shall continue valid until surrendered by the vendor or cancelled, for cause, by the Comptroller. The form of such license shall be prescribed by the Comptroller.
