

to declare dividends and to recommend amendments to the by-laws. (c) To fill vacancies in the board of directors or in the credit committee until the election and qualification of successors; to have charge of the investment of funds of the corporation except loans to members and to perform such other duties as the members may from time to time authorize.

Members of the board of directors and of the credit and supervisory committees shall, as such, serve without compensation. The officers elected by the board of directors may receive such compensation as the members may authorize.

116. A credit union may loan to its members for such purposes, and upon such security and terms as the by-laws shall provide, and the credit committee may approve, but security need not be taken for any loan of fifty dollars ($50.00) or less, or for the sum of fifty dollars ($50.00) in any case where the loan is in excess of said amount.

An endorsed note or a confessed judgment note signed by the owner of unencumbered real or leasehold property, not to exceed three hundred dollars ($300.00) or the assignment of shares and deposits in the credit union may be deemed security by the credit committee within the meaning of this sub-title. No member of the board of directors, credit committee or the supervisory committee shall directly or indirectly borrow from or become security for a loan or advance made by the corporation, in excess of the total of his shares and deposit, or in excess of the total of paid in shares and deposit held by him and his co-makers in said credit union, unless said loan shall have been approved at a regularly called meeting of the membership of the corporation by a majority vote of those present and represented at said meeting, and unless the call for the meeting contained notice of the fact that such loan would be discussed at said meeting.

All officers and members of committees who in any way knowingly permitted or participated in making a loan of funds of a credit union to a non-member thereof shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The credit union shall have the right to recover the amount of said illegal loans from the borrower or from any officer or member of committees who knowingly permitted or participated in the making thereof, or from them all jointly. The supervisory committee shall appoint a substitute to act on the credit committee in the place of any member, in case such member makes application to borrow money from the credit union or to become surety for any other member, whose application for a loan is under consideration. A borrower may repay the whole or any part of this loan on any day on which the office of the corporation is open for business.
