

Interrogatory by Mr. Lee. Has the President of your bank made any contract with the Treasurer of the State, looking to the payment of any interest or bonus on the money deposited by him in your bank, or could the payment of any such interest or bonus be made without your knowledge?

Answer. No.

1st interrogatory propounded to J. Harris Forbes. Please state your name and occupation?

Answer. J. Harris Forbes; am Cashier of the Citizens' Bank of Annapolis.

The second and third interrogatories propounded to Mr. Sloan, propounded to this witness, and same answers given.

Interrogatory by Mr. Compton. Have I any interest whatever, as stockholder, or in any capacity, except as the Treasurer of the State, depositing from time to time moneys of the State in your Bank, any connection therewith, or interest therein?

Answer. No.

Interrogatory by Mr. Farrow. Does the bank pay any interest on monies deposited therein?

Answer. No.

1st interrogatory propounded to Louis G. Gassaway. Please state your name and occupation?

Answer. Louis G. Gassaway; am Cashier of the Farmers' National Bank of Annapolis.

The second and third interrogatories propounded to Mr. Sloan, propounded to this witness and same answers given.

Same interrogatories propounded by Mr. Compton and Mr. Farrow to Mr. Forbes, propounded by them to this witness, and same answers given.

Upon which your Committee unanimously beg leave respectfully to report, that they do not find that the said Treasurer has received from any of said Banks any consideration, compensation, bonus, dividend or interest upon the moneys of the State deposited therein.

The testimony of the Cashiers of the several banks being clear and conclusive, they have determined to rest the investigation thereon, not deeming any further prosecution of the inquiry at all necessary.