TREASURY DEPARTMENT,

COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE,

Annapolis, February 8th, 1876.

Hon. Lewis C. Smith, Speaker of the House of Delegates :

DEAR SIR:—In obedience to an order of the House of Delegates, passed 25th January, 1876, I have the honor to transmit herewith, to your Honorable body, "a detailed statement of amounts paid, loaned or made over by the State, to every Institution of learning, incorporated or otherwise, other than the Free Public Schools, that has received aid from the State, since the adoption of the Constitution of 1867, and the several acts under authority of which such sums are paid."

I have the honor to be very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

LEVIN WOOLFORD,

Comptroller of the Treasury.

Which were severally read, and,

On motion of Mr. Donaldson,

Ordered to be printed, and referred to the Committee on Education.

[See Document H.]

Also,

Certain Resolutions of Barbers Beneficial Association of Baltimore.

Which were read and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. Naill presented the petition of Andrew Kessler and thirty other citizens of Frederick county, praying for the passage of a law equalizing taxation.
